RAMESH AND THE LOST POUCH

In a beautiful village surrounded by green fields and tall trees, there lived a kind and hardworking farmer named Ramesh. Ramesh was not rich, but he always had a smile on his face. Every day, he worked hard in his fields, thinking that one day he would give his family a better life.

One afternoon, while Ramesh was coming home from the market, he saw something shiny in the mud on the road. Out of curiosity, he picked it up and saw that it was a small pouch. When he opened it, his eyes grew wide with surprise. The pouch was full of shining gold coins!

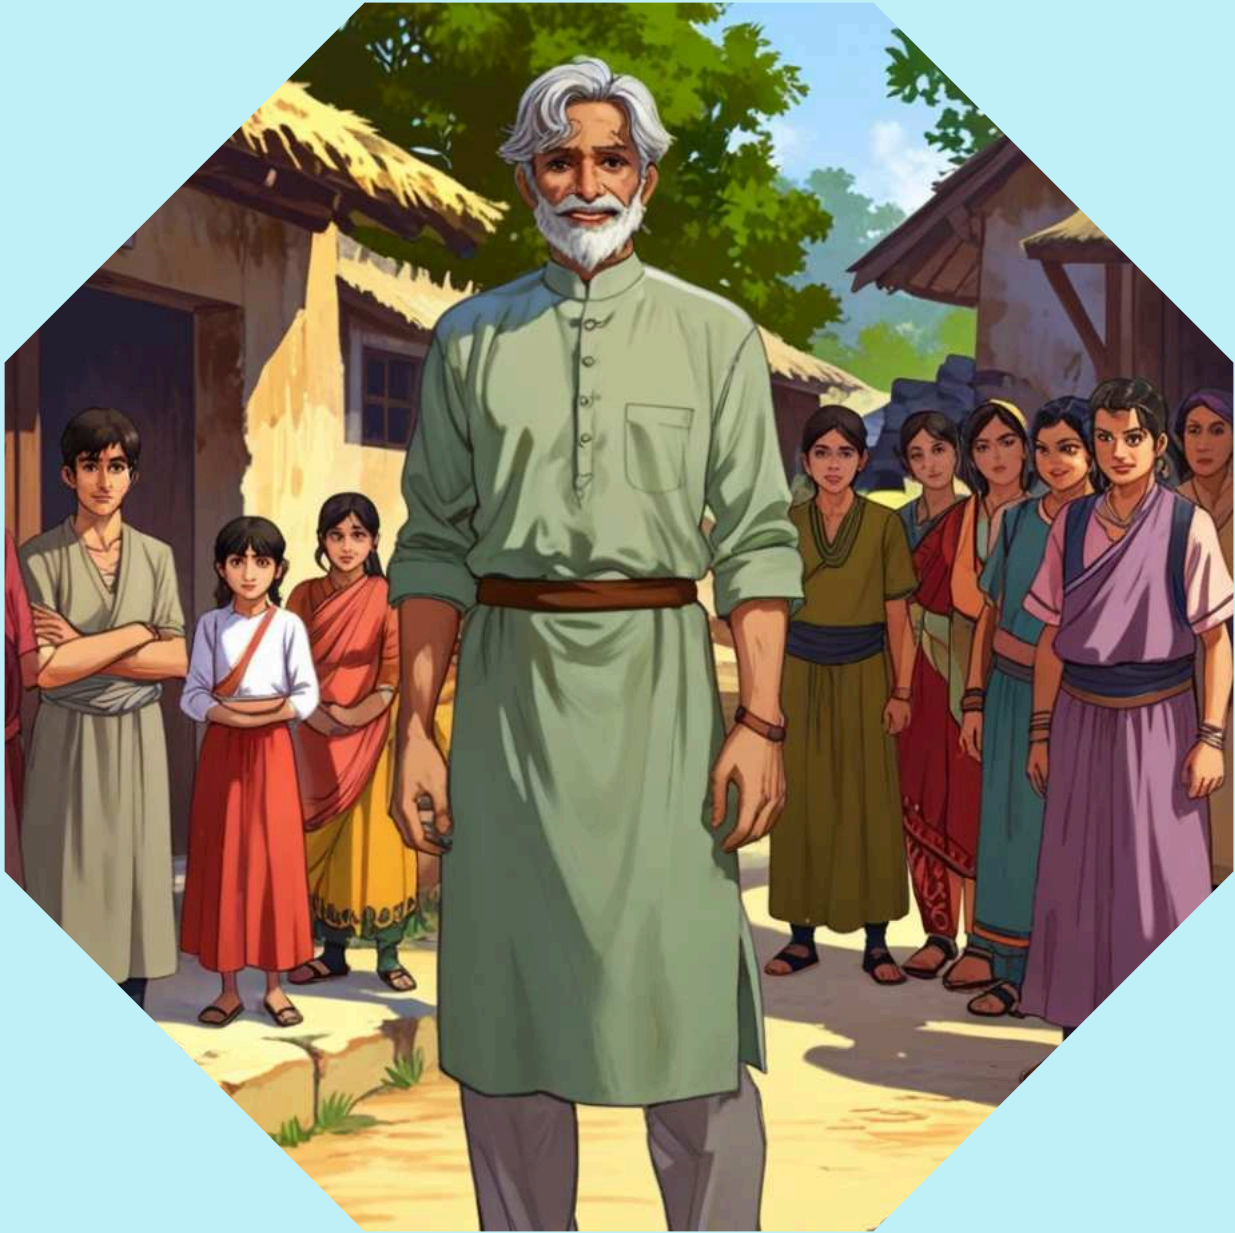

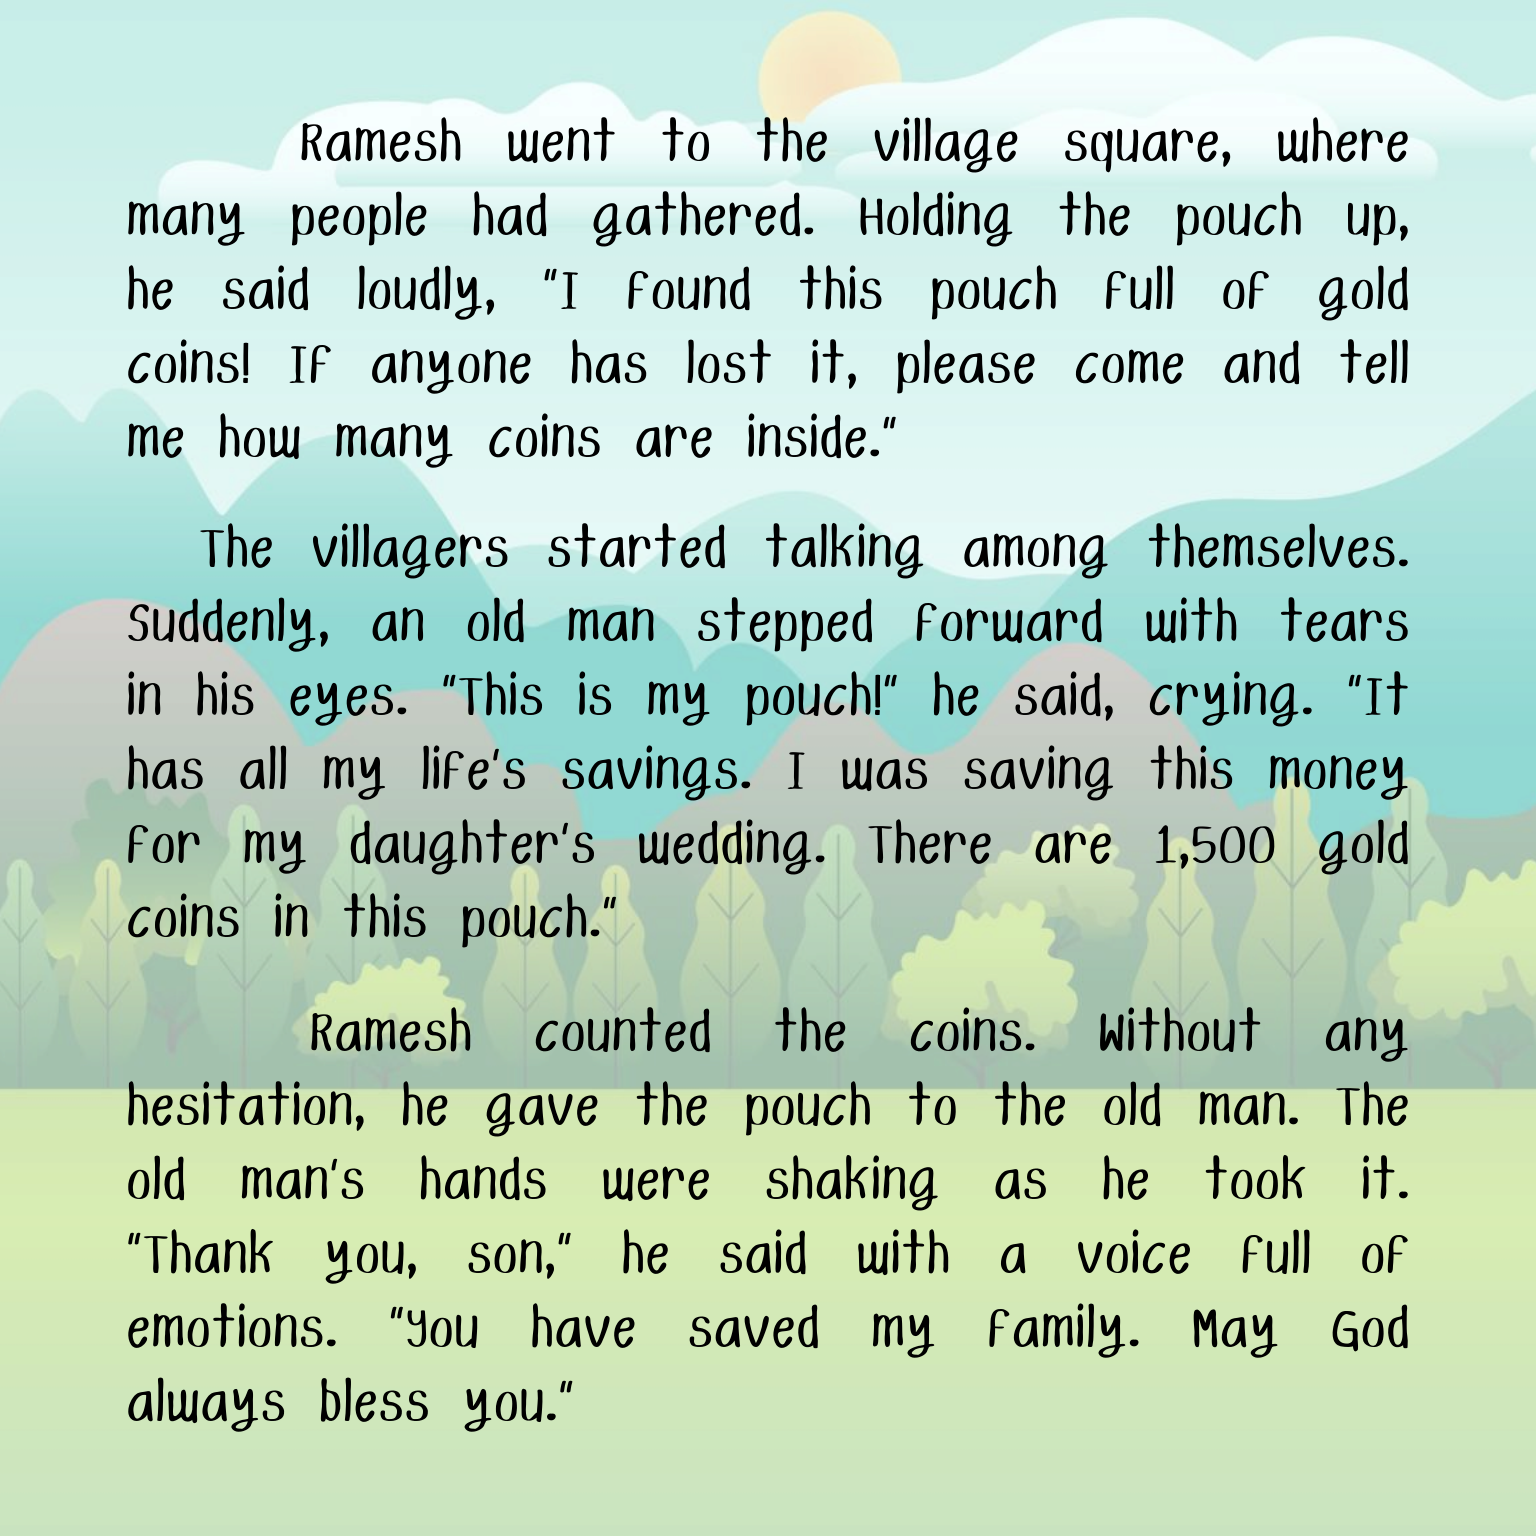

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a landscape. At the top, a bright yellow sun is partially obscured by soft, white, puffy clouds against a light blue sky. Below the sky, there are rolling hills and mountains in shades of teal and light blue. In the foreground, there are several green trees of various shapes and sizes, some with yellow highlights, set against a light green ground. The overall style is clean and modern with a soft color palette.

Ramesh's heart started beating fast. "This gold can change everything for my family!" he thought. But then, a small voice inside him whispered, "Ramesh, these coins are not yours. Maybe someone has lost them and is very worried."

Ramesh stood there and started thinking. Should he keep the pouch or return it? His honest thinking won. He decided to find the owner.

The background features rolling green hills and a line of stylized trees in various shades of green and yellow. The overall scene is bright and cheerful.

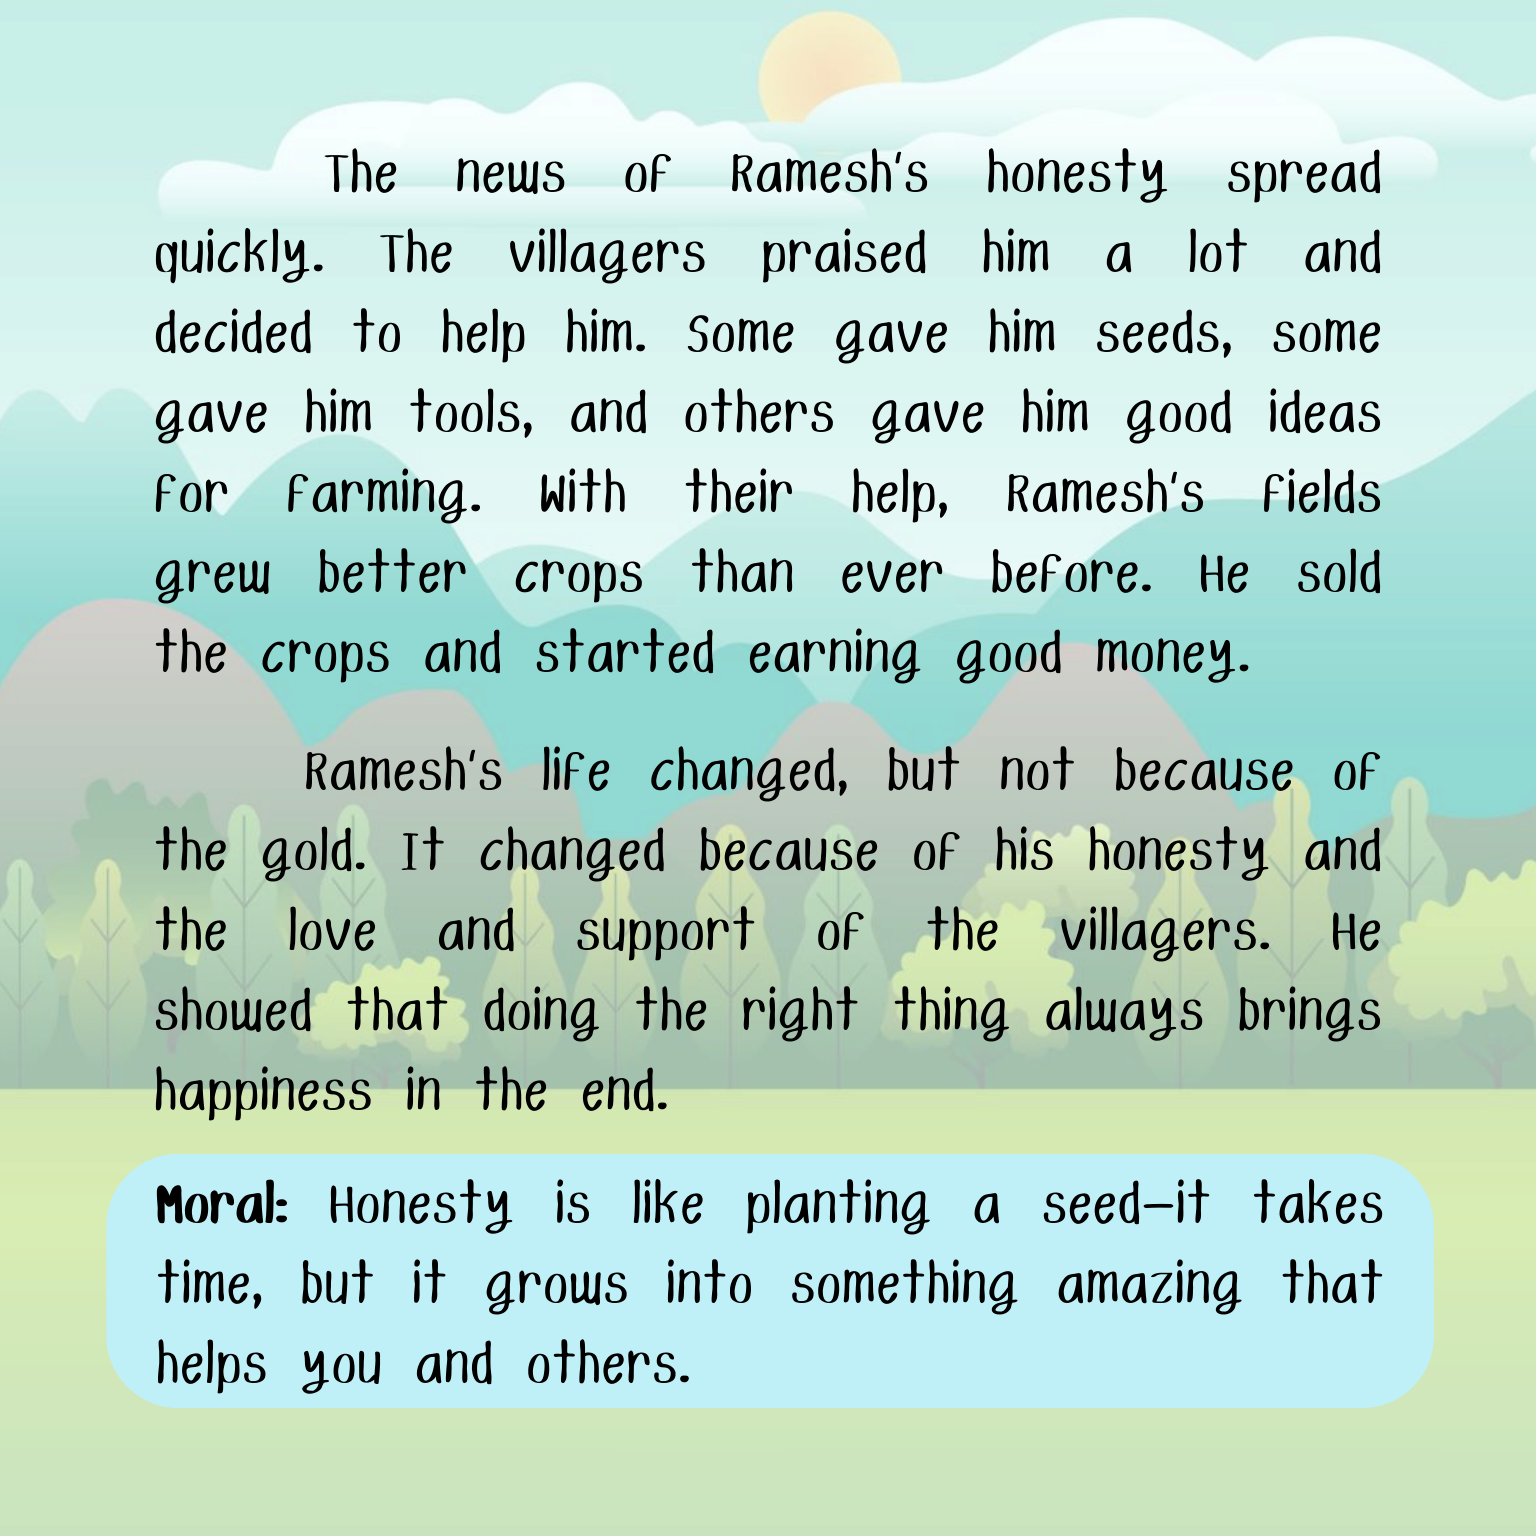

Ramesh went to the village square, where many people had gathered. Holding the pouch up, he said loudly, "I found this pouch full of gold coins! IF anyone has lost it, please come and tell me how many coins are inside."

The villagers started talking among themselves. Suddenly, an old man stepped forward with tears in his eyes. "This is my pouch!" he said, crying. "It has all my life's savings. I was saving this money for my daughter's wedding. There are 1,500 gold coins in this pouch."

Ramesh counted the coins. Without any hesitation, he gave the pouch to the old man. The old man's hands were shaking as he took it. "Thank you, son," he said with a voice full of emotions. "You have saved my family. May God always bless you."

The news of Ramesh's honesty spread quickly. The villagers praised him a lot and decided to help him. Some gave him seeds, some gave him tools, and others gave him good ideas for farming. With their help, Ramesh's fields grew better crops than ever before. He sold the crops and started earning good money.

Ramesh's life changed, but not because of the gold. It changed because of his honesty and the love and support of the villagers. He showed that doing the right thing always brings happiness in the end.

Moral: Honesty is like planting a seed—it takes time, but it grows into something amazing that helps you and others.
